

Admission Drug Testing Information

- All incoming students will undergo drug testing for admission
- A fee will be assessed for the drug test and only cash or money order is accepted at the South Plains College Nursing Department office.
- Failure to test negative or to submit to drug testing will result in forfeiture of your acceptance into the program.
- If you try to manipulate the screening in any way such as bribe, coerce or falsify testing in some way it will result in forfeiture of your acceptance into the program.
- Any product on the market, even over the counter products that contain hemp, CBD, THC ingredients may result in a positive screening. These could include gummies, oils, vape, bath products, creams, lotions, etc. Using any of these products could build up high enough THC levels to create a positive test result.
