Course Description: This course teaches the fundamentals of writing news for the mass media. It includes methods and techniques for gathering, processing and delivering news in a professional manner.

Required Texts:

The Missouri Group. (2013). Telling the Story: The Convergence of Print, Broadcast and Online Media. 5th edition.

The Associated Press. (2019). The Associated Press Stylebook.

Assignments:

1. Five-minute papers: Near the end of each class, you will have approximately five minutes to write down what you thought were a few of the main points made on the topic covered that day that you found interesting or other thoughts about the class.
2. Article Discussions: You are responsible for finding five articles on a topic or issue in mass communications. Then write a synopsis of the article (1-page minimum, 2-page maximum, double spaced, 12-point type) highlighting the main points, and be prepared to discuss your article in class. Include two questions pertaining to the article to initiate a discussion. Good sources for these articles include The Columbia Journalism Review and Editor & Publisher. Several can be found online. Articles should not be more than five years old and should be about issues or incidents involving American media.
3. Writing Assignments: Since writing is an important component of this course, you will have five graded writing assignments during the semester, each focusing on developing skills necessary for news reporting. Grading will be based on numerous factors, some objective and some subjective. Organization is important, as is completeness and logical delivery (Each should be double spaced, 1-inch margins, 12-point type).

4. Exams: You will have two exams (one mid-term, one final) that cover the material presented in lectures and chapters covered in the texts.

Course Grades: The grading scale is:

90-100	A
80-89	B
70-79	C
60-69	D
below 60	F

Your grade will be determined by the following:

Five-Minute Papers (3 pts. each)	72 pts.
Article Discussions (20 pts. each)	100 pts.
Exams (2)	200 pts.
Writing Assignments (50 pts each)	250 pts.
Participation/Initiative	5 pts.
Quizzes (20 pts. each)	*40 pts.

*At least 2 announced quizzes; maybe several unannounced

Communications professionals need to show initiative in their professional lives. This portion of the grade is intended to reward students who exhibit such initiative in this course. The criteria include, but are not limited to: attending class; being on time for class; participating in a thoughtful manner in class discussions; turning in assignments on time (do not request deadline extensions); taking responsibility for your actions; and not whining.

Course Objectives: Upon completion of this course, the student should be able to demonstrate an understanding of the following areas:

- What is news
- Interviewing
- News gathering and verification of facts
- Covering news conferences, meetings, speeches, and breaking or developing news
- Legal and ethical issues facing reporters
- Convergence of news media (print, broadcast and on-line)

Deadlines: ALL deadlines are absolute. You need to get used to deadlines that exist in the off-campus world. Therefore, all assignments will be due at the beginning of each class, unless changed by the instructor, and any late papers will be penalized harshly. Technical malfunctions (i.e. “My computer ate my homework,” or “My printer crashed”) will not be an excuse for late work.

Please Sanitize: You’re encouraged to sanitize your desk and work space prior to leaving class. If using a computer, sanitize BEFORE and AFTER use. Masks are optional in all college classrooms and hallways.

COVID Policy: If you are experiencing any of the following symptoms, please do not attend class and either seek medical attention or get tested for COVID-19.

- Cough, shortness of breath, difficulty breathing
- Fever or chills
- Muscles or body aches
- Vomiting or diarrhea
- New loss of taste and smell

Please also notify DeEtte Edens, BSN, RN, Associate Director of Health & Wellness, at dedens@southplainscollege.edu or 806-716-2376.

ADA Statement: Students with disabilities, including but not limited to physical, psychiatric or learning disabilities, who wish to request accommodations in this class should notify the Disability Services Office early in the semester so that the appropriate arrangements may be made. In accordance with federal law, a student requesting accommodations must provide acceptable documentation of his/her disability to the Disability Services Office. For more information, call or visit the Disability Services Office at (806) 716-2577.

Diversity Statement: In this class, the instructor will establish and support an environment that values and nurtures individual and group differences and encourages engagement and interaction. Understanding multiple experiences and perspectives will serve to challenge and stimulate all of us to learn about others, about the larger world and about ourselves. By promoting diversity and intellectual exchange, we will not only mirror society as it is, but also model society as it should and can be.

Title IX Pregnancy Accommodations: If you are pregnant, or have given birth within six months, Under Title IX you have a right to reasonable accommodations to help continue your education. To activate accommodations, you must submit a Title IX pregnancy accommodations request, along with specific medical documentation, to the Director of Health and Wellness. Once approved, notification will be sent to the student and instructors. It is the student's responsibility to work with the instructor to arrange accommodations. Contact the Director of Health and Wellness at (806) 716-2362 or email cgilster@southplainscollege.edu for assistance.

Academic Honesty and Professional Conduct Policy: The same standards and ethics will apply to students enrolled in this course as apply to news reporters and other media professionals. Violations of these standards will result in a failing grade for the assignment and immediate dismissal from the course will be considered. These standards include, but are not limited to:

1. Plagiarism will not be tolerated. You may not take material verbatim from other sources such as previously published newspaper stories, wire service stories, broadcast news stories, etc... To do so is to plagiarize.

2. Pay strict attention to spelling, grammar, and punctuation. Since the invention of the dictionary and spell checker, there is no excuse for a misspelled word. To allow for a misspelled word to appear in any assignment you submit for a grade is laziness. Any misspelled words or factual errors will be graded harshly.

One of the best ways to improve your writing, as well as your grade, is through revision. You may regain up to half of lost points on most graded writing assignments (excluding any writing for an exam) by revising based on notes on your graded paper. To regain lost points, you may revise your paper, and return the original and the revision (within one week of the day you received the original graded paper).

Civility Code: As future communications professionals, you are to communicate with each other in a professional and civil manner. We all may feel passionately about certain issues; however, passion is no substitute for a solid grasp of the facts and sound, logical reasoning. Disparaging comments about gender, ethnicity, religion, etc... will not be tolerated. Understanding and respecting multiple experiences and perspectives will serve to challenge and stimulate all of us to learn about others, about the larger world and about ourselves.

Disruptive behaviors such as cell phones ringing, leaving and returning to class while in session, arriving late to class, talking with others during lectures/discussions, checking your e-mail or Facebook, sending or receiving text messages, eating or drinking in class, etc... will result in a substantial reduction in the participation portion of one's grade and a request that such students leave the class. Cell phones must remain turned off and out of sight during this class. They may remain "silent" or on vibrate as long as they are out of sight. They may only be activated in individual extenuating circumstances after consulting with the instructor.
