- To understand the standards of visual elements in technical communication
- To write various types of technical reports
- To understand the basic types of graphic aids and to incorporate such graphic aids in written and oral reports

Textbook and Supplies

A textbook is not required for this course. The instructor will provide students with information as necessary.

A word processing program and a presentation software program (Papers will only be accepted in .doc or .docx format, except for the presentation assignment, which will be submitted as a .ppt , .pptx or prezi file)

Course Description

Students will be instructed in the design and preparation of technical writing projects appropriate to the world of work, including resumes, letters, proposals, reports, instructions, brochures, and oral presentations. They will be encouraged to consider the audience of each of their technical communication assignments, paying particular attention to design, style, and tone as they deliver accurate and thorough results that are thoughtfully prepared for their readers

Grading Policy

Final grades will be assigned based on total points for the semester. (Somewhere around 1300.) The final exam is optional and can be used to raise your grade. If you are happy with your grade you will not need to take the final. Please be advised that I do not accept late work for any reason.

Reading Assignments and Video Lectures

Mandatory, assigned reading is required for this course; you may also be required to watch recorded video lectures. Reading and video lecture assignments can be found on the module pages in Blackboard.

Module Assignments

You will be required to submit module assignments for this course, the details of which are found in the various module folders.

Module assignment grades will vary based upon the assignment. They may be 25, 50 or 100 points. The point value is reflective of the amount of work to be due and does not indicate the importance or lack of importance of an assignment.

Due dates for module assignments will normally be 11:59 PM and assignments must be submitted online via Blackboard.

Discussions

Collaboration and communication are essential to success in both the academic and professional setting. To practice these skills and further our knowledge of the subjects we cover in this course, each student will be required to participate in weekly discussions.

There may be one or two parts to each module discussion assignment. The first is an initial post, and the second part may include responses to your peers. A 10 point deduction will be applied to initial posts not posted by the first deadline, and no response posts will be counted for credit after the second deadline.

Due Dates

Due dates are posted on the course calendar and are firm. I do not grant extensions or allow late work for any reason. Work submitted after the due date will not be evaluated and will receive a grade of 0.

Assignment Submission

All files must be submitted via the Assignment tool in the respective Blackboard modules. If there is an issue with Blackboard, you may use email, but I would prefer you do so ONLY in an emergency. I teach several classes and they generate numerous emails.

Academic Integrity

It is the aim of the faculty at South Plains College to foster a spirit of complete honesty and a high standard of integrity. The attempt of any student to present as his or her own any work which he or she has not honestly performed is regarded by the faculty and administration as a most serious offense and renders the offender liable to serious consequences and possible suspension. Please refer to the SPC General Catalog regarding consequences for cheating and plagiarism.

Do not, under any circumstances, turn in another student's work as your own. Do not, under any circumstances, give your work to anyone else to turn in as their own. Do not copy and paste from the Internet. All of these situations are representative of academic dishonesty and will be treated as such.

I have zero tolerance for cheaters. If I suspect you of cheating, I will drop you without discussion. Please trust me when I say I have ways of determining whether or not you've cheated that you can't get around, as smart as you are.
