Catalog Description

This course is an intensive study and practice of the composition process from invention and researching to drafting, revising, and editing, both individually and collaboratively. The curriculum includes the teaching of effective rhetorical modes as well as audience, purpose, arrangement, style, and collateral readings. The instructional focus is on writing the academic essay as a vehicle for learning, communicating, and critical analysis.

Purpose

Freshman Composition is arguably the most important preparatory course that students will take. This course is, at its heart, both an introduction to college and to academic writing. The intention of this course is to help students begin to think of themselves as college students and, more importantly, as writers. This course will supply students with the necessary tools to succeed in other courses and provide a strong foundation for success throughout college and beyond. Furthermore, students will learn to understand writing as a process, a skill that takes practice.

Required Texts

No textbook is required for this course. However, you will have readings that will be posted to Blackboard.

If you need supplemental instruction, consider College Writing Skills with Readings by John Langan. 978-0078036279

Objectives

The late writing scholar Donald Murray explains that we write “to learn, to describe, and therefore to see, to entertain, to inform, to persuade, to celebrate, to attack, to call attention, to think, to make money, to promote, to advocate, to connect, to relate, to make, to share. But always behind each writing purpose is the secret excitement of discovery: the word, the line, the sentence, the page that achieves its own life and its own meaning.” In this course, students will explore the reasons why writers write and the many genres they use to express their ideas. Through critical reading and writing, discussion, peer review, and classroom exercises, students will develop the skills necessary to express their ideas across a variety of genres.

Outcomes

Upon successful completion of this course, students will:

1. Demonstrate knowledge of individual and collaborative writing processes.
2. Exhibit logic, unity, development, and coherence to create essays.

3. Develop ideas with appropriate support and attribution.
4. Write in a style appropriate to audience and purpose.
5. Read, reflect, and respond critically to a variety of texts.
6. Use American English, with an emphasis on correct grammar, parallelism, punctuation, spelling, and mechanics, in language appropriate for academic essays.
7. Write a minimum of six 500-word essays.

Essays

Students will write five essays. Good writing is a process and the essays must show evidence of this process. Essays written in this course will start in draft form. The first draft of an essay will only be graded for completion. This will give students the chance to practice the writing process and to improve on the essay through workshoping with peers, suggestions from the instructor, and self-analysis. The second draft will be graded.

Late work is not accepted. You cannot make up the research paper or the final portfolio.

Tips for Success

1. Professional Writing. Your written work and communication should reflect that you are in a composition course. All essays should be written in scholarly, Standard Academic English.
2. Communicate. If you do not understand the assignment, call or email me. I am here to help you! Try to contact me in a timely fashion. Do not email me the night before an assignment is due. I work hard to respond to emails within 24 hours, except on the weekends.
3. Be Organized. Give yourself enough time to complete each assignment. Do not fall behind in the course.
4. Be Studious. Internet courses require self-discipline, organization, and motivation. You need to set aside time each week to "attend" this class.

Academic Integrity

The guidelines set forth in the South Plains College catalog will be followed. From the catalog:

Cheating: Dishonesty of any kind on examinations or on written assignments, illegal possession of examinations, the use of unauthorized notes during an examination, obtaining information during an examination from the textbook or from the examination paper of another student, assisting others to cheat, alteration of grade records, illegal entry or unauthorized presence in an office are examples of cheating. Complete honesty is required of the student in the presentation of any and all phases of course work. This applies to quizzes of whatever length, as well as to final examinations, to daily reports and to term papers.

Plagiarism: Offering the work of another as one's own, without proper acknowledgment, is plagiarism; therefore, any student who fails to give credit for quotations or essentially identical expression of material taken from books, encyclopedias, magazines and other reference works, or from the themes, reports or other writings of fellow student, is guilty of plagiarism.

Plagiarism is another word for academic dishonesty and is a form of theft. All of the writing and the ideas in your writing (e.g., journals) must be your own. Any attempt to pass off the work of someone else as your own will result in an F for the course.

Failure to comply with this policy will result in a '0' (no credit) for the assignment and can result in an "F" for the course if circumstances warrant. Please note that essays cannot be "recycled" – reusing previous essays that you have written is still a form of academic dishonesty. All writing in this class must be new and original.

Turnitin

All essays MUST be submitted to Turnitin via Blackboard. An unfavorable Turnitin report may result in a zero for the assignment. Failure to upload an essay to Turnitin will result in a zero for the written work, regardless of quality.

Blackboard, Internet Access, and Word Processors

Blackboard is the website host for our class, where you are able to view and access homework, view and print out class PowerPoint lessons, check your grades, view the syllabus, and utilize additional links.
