Learning Outcomes

Upon successful completion of this course, the student will:

1. Use appropriate symbolic notation and vocabulary to communicate, interpret, and explain mathematical concepts.
2. Define, represent, and perform operations on real numbers, applying numeric reasoning to investigate and describe quantitative relationships and solve real world problems in a variety of contexts.
3. Use algebraic reasoning to solve problems that require ratios, rates, percentages, and proportions in a variety of contexts using multiple representations.
4. Apply algebraic reasoning to manipulate expressions and equations to solve real world problems.
5. Use graphs, tables, and technology to analyze, interpret, and compare data sets.
6. Construct and use mathematical models in verbal, algebraic, graphical, and tabular form to solve problems from a variety of contexts and to make predictions and decisions.

Textbook: No textbook is required for this course. However, the instructor may recommend a textbook for additional study.

Attendance: The student will be required to communicate with the instructor at least once per week for the duration of this course. Failure to communicate at least once per week with the instructor will result in the student being dropped from the course.

Grading: This course will be graded on a pass/fail basis. Once the student has completed the course with at least 90% mastery, the student will have earned a grade of P, indicating “passing” for the course. If the student does not achieve a 90% level of mastery, the student will have earned a grade of F and will be required to take the course again.

Supplies: Access to a computer with an internet connection is required for this course. Free tutoring is available in room M116 at the Levelland campus or in Building 2 at the Reese Center.

Accessing the Course Diagnostic and Learning Modules:
