Upon successful completion of this course, students should be familiar with the evolution of the nation and its role in the world from the mid-nineteenth century to the early twenty-first century. This would include the ability to:

- Create an argument through the use of historical evidence.
- Analyze and interpret primary and secondary sources.

 Analyze the effects of historical, social, political, economic, cultural, and global forces on this period of United States history.

Course Purpose: To acquaint students with the diversity of American history and to promote critical thinking in interrelating the past to the present. Fundamentally, the course promotes general understanding of a body of knowledge any literate person should possess about the history of his own country.

Course Evaluation: See the instructor's course information sheet for specific items used in evaluating student performance.

Attendance Policy: Whenever absences become excessive and in the instructor's opinion, minimum course objectives cannot be met due to absences, the student will be withdrawn from the course. Each instructor will have additional information about attendance on his/her course information sheet.

Dropping a Course: Students may drop courses through Texan Connect, the Admissions and Records Office, or Advising and Testing Center through the late registration period. After late registration has closed, a student must complete the online Student Initiated Drop Request to drop a course.

History 1302.151 & 451, America Since 1876

Course Overview: History 1302 constitutes a general survey of United States history from the end of Reconstruction through the present. Given the time constraints of a one-semester survey and the broad range of subjects available for study, we will only be able to focus on a few major topics. Some of these include: the aftermath of the Civil War and Reconstruction; westward expansion; industrialization and responses to it; the emergence of the welfare state; American internationalism; social tumults in the period after World War Two; Vietnam and its effects; the quest for civil rights and equality of citizenship; America's right turn in the 1970s-1990s; and current issues and topics that we as Americans face today. The central theme of this course, one that is related to each of the topics, is the ever-changing ideology of Republicanism: i.e., what it has meant to be an American from the perspectives of men and women of different ethnicities, classes, and regions, and how that meaning has changed over time.

We will experience the years 1877-present through visual media such as documentaries, primary sources written by people who lived and made the history of the period as well as secondary sources written by historians who have interpreted it. After reading, viewing, and discussing these materials over the course of a semester, you will be able to judge whose arguments you most closely agree with and develop interpretations and questions of your own.

Required Readings: There is one required text for this class:

Openstax, U.S. History (OER), 21st Ed, ISBN 9781938168369 (A link to the textbook will be provided in Blackboard.)

Any additional readings will come from websites I have linked to the units and will be free.

Time Zones: All deadlines for exams, assignments, etc. listed in any of the course materials, units and communications of all types will be in Central Standard Time (CST). If you are taking this course from another time zone, it is your responsibility to convert these times to those appropriate for your own area.

Grading:

There is a total of 630 points possible for the course. Grades will be determined as follows:

Syllabus Quiz	20
Syllabus Contract	10
Writing Assignments (2 @ 20 points each)	40
Discussion Questions (3 @ 20 points each)	60
Quizzes (10 @ 10 points each)	100
Exams (4 @ 100 points each)	400
Total Points	630

I will grade on the following scale:

630 - 567 (100%-90%)	Α
566 - 504 pts (89.9%-80%)	В
503 - 441 pts (79.9%-70%)	С
440 - 378 pts (69.9%-60%)	D
377 - 0 pts (59.9%-0%)	F

Extra Credit (WOW!):

Students may also submit an additional writing assignment (instructions provided in a separate link on the Course Content page) for a possible 20 extra credit points. If you plagiarize an assignment, you will lose the extra credit opportunity.

Because I am offering this extra credit opportunity, late papers and exams will not be accepted for any reason other than a documented emergency or a verified problem with Blackboard.

Student Privacy:

South Plains College is bound by the Texas Open Records Law and the Family Educational Rights and Privacy Act of 1974. Information regarding these topics can be found in the South Plains College Catalog. As far as this class is concerned, I will NOT release or discuss your class performance, grades, averages, or attendance with anyone but you. This means that your parents, class counselors, principals, or any other interested party will not gain this information from me - if they need this sort of information they must ask you for it.

Academic Dishonesty:

Most students work hard to earn grades through their own efforts. Unfortunately, I occasionally encounter students who attempt to get through my course through dubious means. Let me state my policy on these issues clearly:

I have zero tolerance for cheating and plagiarism and will vigorously deal with these circumstances in accordance with the guidelines set forth in the South Plains College Policy & Procedures Manual, Section FF. This will mean a failing grade on the exam/assignment in question at the minimum, and can entail failure of the course and/or expulsion from the college.

Plagiarism: For purposes of this class, plagiarism can mean several people turning in the same or closely related papers for the writing assignments or discussions, including copying work from a student who took this course a previous semester. Discussion responses that are copied directly from the book and/or a website and Writing Assignments (including the Extra Credit Writing Assignment) without citations or copied directly from a website and/or book, in whole or in part, will also fall under this category.

Additionally, I know it may be tempting to download papers from the Internet. However, please remember that there are many powerful software programs designed to detect plagiarism available to me and I know how to use them. I also have a pretty good idea of what student writing looks like. Finally, I have read the textbook and it's pretty easy for me to look up and see whether someone has merely copied from the text and turned it in as their answer. I take plagiarism seriously. So should you.

Exams will be taken using Honorlock. You are not allowed to use any outside sources for the exams (notes, online sources, textbook, etc.) If you use any resources to take the major exams, you will receive a zero for the exam.

Plagiarism of an assignment or cheating on an exam will result in the loss of the extra credit opportunity. Plagiarism of one assignment or cheating on an exam will result in a zero and a warning. Plagiarism of two assignments and/or cheating on two exams will result in being dropped from the course with an F.

Artificial Intelligence (AI) Resources:

No use of AI, including Grammarly, permitted. Because writing and critical thinking skills are part of the learning outcomes of this course, it is a violation of academic integrity to employ generative AI at any point in this course.

Examinations:

There will be four major exams in this course. You may not use any resources when taking the exams. You must have Honorlock installed on your computer in order to take exams. Instructions for installing Honorlock will be contained in the Blackboard course. You will have 60 minutes to take each exam. For purposes of this class, this means 60 consecutive minutes.

If you have computer problems while taking your exam, please send me an email immediately. It is your responsibility to let me know that you have a problem as soon as the problem occurs. If you do not let me know about the problem until after the exam closes, you will not be able to take the exam.

You will receive a study guide for each exam. Study Guides are found in the Additional Resources on the Content page. The exams will consist of multiple choice questions and will come from the lectures.

Quizzes:

There will be chapter quizzes. These quizzes will be taken from the textbook and will be open book. You will have unlimited time to take them. Quiz deadlines are found in the Schedule of Assignments.

If you have computer problems while taking your quiz, please send me an email immediately. It is your responsibility to let me know that you have a problem as soon as the problem occurs. If you do not let me know about the problem until after the quiz closes, you will not be able to take the quiz.

Discussions:

I will post one question to the course discussion forum for three units this semester. In order to receive full credit for the discussions, you must actually carry on a discussion about the question with your peers. One posting does not constitute a discussion and will not receive full credit. You must post at least two thoughtful discussion responses in order to earn full credit. ("I agree with your response" does not qualify as a discussion posting.) In order to submit these responses, you must first post a response to my question and then you must post a response to another student's response.

In order to allow your peers time to respond to your discussion posting, you must post your initial response to the discussion question by the first discussion deadline for that unit in order to receive full credit. You must then post a response to another student's discussion submission by the second discussion deadline for that unit in order to receive full credit. You will only receive up to half credit if you fail to submit your first discussion response (your response to my discussion question) by the first discussion deadline or fail to respond to another student's discussion submission. For example, your initial response for Week 1.3 is due by 11:59 p.m. on Sunday, July 13. Your final response (response to another student's posting) is due by 11:59 p.m. on Monday, July 14. If you do not post your responses by then, you will have missed your chance to get credit for that unit's discussion.

Additionally, both responses should be at least one paragraph in length (at least 5 sentences) to receive credit. This does not mean that five sentences will automatically receive full credit. You must adequately discuss the question and fully respond to another student in order to receive full credit. This often cannot be done in five sentences. When responding to another student, do not give a critique of their submission (e.g. good job, you should have said . . . etc.) You should contribute to the discussion of the topic when responding to another student rather than telling them how well you think they did.

Your comments should reflect careful thinking and should be phrased in proper English (you know - capitalization, correct spelling, punctuation, complete sentences, etc.). Your comments should be normally between a paragraph and a page in length. I expect you to cite page numbers when quoting and/or paraphrasing the textbook, and you should enclose the direct quote in quotation marks. Here is how you do that:

Students who turn in discussion responses that include direct quotes from the text not enclosed in quotation marks or paraphrasing that does not cite a page number from the text will receive a grade of zero for that assignment.

All responses to the question must have citations. You either need to include the page number from the textbook or a website from which you obtained your information. If you do not include a citation for your response to the question, you will not earn credit for that response. Citing a page number from the textbook or a website does not mean you can copy directly from your source. If you quote from a source, you must use quotation marks. Otherwise, it is plagiarism. Quotations should be used sparingly.

These discussions will be closely monitored and no foul language, personal insults, or meandering off topic will be tolerated. Students who break the rules will be warned once; if they continue to violate the rules, they will receive a zero for the Discussion grade for the entire semester.

Writing Assignments:

There will be two short writing assignments worth 20 points each. Instructions for these assignments will be contained within that unit's learning module. Deadlines for assignments are found in the Schedule of Assignments.

Academic Writing:

South Plains College requires all students to become proficient in "academic English," a form of English that is typically used in academic, professional, and business contexts. While slang, regional idioms, and informal kinds of self-expression are appropriate in some contexts, they are out of place in academic writing. Writing instructors and professors in courses across the campus expect all students to demonstrate proficiency in using the conventions of academic English in their written work, whether it is in-class exams or take-home essays.

In addition to content, writing assignments and discussions will be graded on using proper grammar, spelling, and punctuation.

Grading:

I will post grades for your assignments approximately 2-3 days after the assignments are due.

Late Assignment Policy:

Late assignments and exams will not be accepted for any reason other than a documented emergency, illness, or a verified problem with the Blackboard server. If you cannot submit your assignment on time due to an accepted excuse, you must contact the instructor prior to the deadline in order to submit the assignment late.

If you plan to be out of town or involved in any extracurricular activity that interferes with a deadline, it is your responsibility to submit the writing assignment, discussion, and/or quiz prior to the deadline. Late work will not be accepted due to a trip or extracurricular activity.

Submission of Assignments:

It is your responsibility to double-check the submission of your work. If your work is not submitted (even though you may have attempted to submit it), I will not accept the assignment late.

If you have problems submitting an assignment through the correct submission link, it is your responsibility to send the assignment to me through email by the assignment deadline or you will not receive credit.

Computer Problems:

You will need to plan ahead and allow sufficient time to submit your work. Computer problems (including WiFi problems) are not a valid excuse for submitting late work. If you do have computer problems when submitting an assignment, you will need to find another computer to use in order to submit your work. (Family members, friends, and libraries are excellent sources for locating another working computer.) Waiting until the last minute to submit your work and discovering that you have a computer problem is not an acceptable excuse for submitting late work.

Always, always back up your work on your computer. I recommend saving a copy to your hard drive and also saving a copy to a flash drive (or even email it to yourself). Losing your work because you have computer problems and do not have a back-up copy is not a valid excuse to submit late work.

Syllabus Quiz and Syllabus Contract:

You must submit the Syllabus Contract and Syllabus Quiz by 11:59 p.m. on Tuesday, July 8. You must take the Syllabus Quiz until you earn full credit (20 points).

Course Schedule: Online courses are designed to give students flexibility - and they do to some extent. However, some structure is also necessary in order to fit the course into a one-semester format. Please note the dates and times for your assignments, quizzes, and exams on the Schedule of Assignments and course calendar. If you miss an assignment, quiz, or exam, you are out of luck unless you have a documented excuse.

Syllabus subject to change at instructor's discretion.
